Abtin Shahriari [DMD, MPH]

DR. ABTIN SHAHRIARI is an Ivy League-educated, board-certified diplomate of the American Board of Oral & Maxillofacial Surgery, and is domestically and internationally recognized as an expert surgeon, teacher, and author. Dr. Abtin underwent over eight years of surgical training and learning at Emory University and the University of Pennsylvania. His surgical expertise includes bone grafting, dental implants, and facial reconstruction.

He frequently travels internationally as a lecturer on dental implants and oral surgery and has been published in leading research journals both nationally and internationally.

Dr. Abtin leads two highly credentialed state-of-the-art surgical centers, with the most recent office located in Buckhead. Dr. Abtin's offices are unique in that they are the only oral surgery offices in the entire state of Georgia certified by the Accreditation Association for Ambulatory Health Care (AAAHC). AAAHC accreditation ensures a superior level of commitment to patient safety and adherence to guidelines that maximize patient protection during outpatient surgery. At the forefront of innovation, they utilize the latest 3-D virtual reality surgical planning technology, allowing for improved prediction of operation outcomes and a precise surgical plan.

Exceptional patient-centered care is of the utmost importance to Dr. Abtin and is reflected in his surgical facilities. Patient concerns are at the core of treatment planning, and he practices under the philosophy that patients should be treated as though they are family members.

Specialized training and experience in dental implant and oral surgery, paired with his extensive specialized surgical experience, place exceptional results and world-class treatment within arm's reach.
